Hometown Grocer CUB and their parent company UNFI step up to ensure Minnesota's childcare providers have access to critical supplies

The CUB/UNFI team is dedicated to helping Minnesotans and our hometown communities. Leveraging its extensive supply chain network, including Kemps for milk supply, CUB and its parent UNFI are stepping up to deliver a solution for Minnesota childcare providers and their critical needs via their network of CUB stores.

"Our goal is simple," said Mike Stigers, CUB CEO. "Ensure childcare providers have access to the product they need to continue providing care to the children of emergency and other essential workers. This is our hometown and we're proud to do what we can to support our communities during this challenging time."

Childcare Supply Chain Process:

- CUB's goal is to help by recognizing that for each childcare provider "one size does not fit all" and wants to connect Childcare Centers with their local CUB store team
- Childcare providers can contact/place any special orders through their local CUB store (Monday/Tuesday)
- Store team then leverages the extensive UNFI supply chain network and purchasing expertise located in Minnesota and through the Company's distribution centers in the Twin Cities-area.
- Additionally CUB has created a single email point of contact to help easily connect childcare centers with the appropriate store personnel to assist them – email is daycare@cub.com
