Transition Resources for Post-Secondary and Training

HOW TO ACCESS POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAMS

1. Compile Transition Portfolio: IEP, with accommodation and assistive technology information, assessment copies, agency information, etc.
2. Identify interests and goals.
3. Assess post-secondary choices.
4. Identify college entrance requirements: assessments, forms, etc.
5. Gather information for post-secondary choices: disability access, contact counselor/disability coordinator, brochures, catalogs, etc. Complete an education plan.
6. Seek accommodation for disability related concerns early in the process. For example: assessment test accommodations or assessments should be taken by the time the eighth credit is purchased.
NOTE: Colleges accommodate and do not provide modification. Think in terms of student accommodation, not modification.
7. Identify supports needed: Notetaker, tutor, word processor, refresher course(s), etc.
8. Self-advocacy. Have a clear understanding of the campus requirements for this skill. Understand the stress associated with learning the “system” and the need to find help immediately. Parents lose the ability to intervene on the behalf of their “over 18” child because they are at the age of majority.
9. Visit the campus and meet the support staff. Each campus may vary the availability of services.
10. Establish a method of communication with your young adult.
